NOTICE

The 2017 Cottonwood / SCCCC Car Show is Cancelled!

Much to our dismay we have to inform you that our 2017 Cottonwood / SCCCC car show has been cancelled.

WHAT THE HECK HAPPENED?

Cottonwood Church upgraded its church management software to a new system. The old system managed all the church's events, which are many. Unfortunately when the data was pulled over to the new system it did not pull over the already scheduled car show event.

As a result the event coordinator booked a university graduation event in the new system on June 3rd which unbeknownst to the coordinator was the same day that the car show was scheduled for. The car show wasn't listed in the new scheduling system. The double booking was discovered at the very beginning of May but by then it was too late to fix and now there was a double booking of two major events.

SCCCC, host of the show, looked very hard at all the facts and concluded that the university, which had already sent out announcements, should take precedence over the car show. A university graduation is a lifetime event and we have the car show every year. We looked to see if there was another date close to the original date that would work but nothing was found.

We are car enthusiasts running a car show for enthusiasts and in that we strive for excellence. Moving the car show to another location or date is not excellence.

The church has assured us that this will never happen again and asked us to please come back again next year. We will as there are no hard feelings and the church has been very welcoming to us. Sorry for any inconvenience this has caused. We hope that you will understand and please join us next year in 2018!

Sincerely,

Fred Schmitthammer
